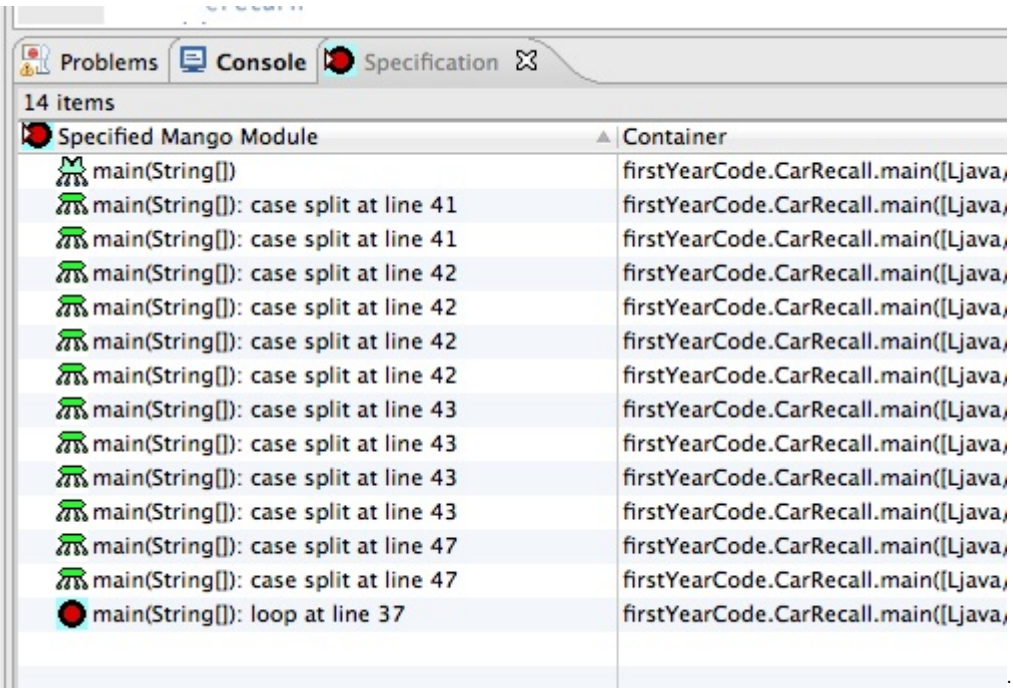
How to delete the gutter icons

As the Mango specification runs, icons will appear in the gutter of specified source code editor view. See CarRecall for example. As they are generated, these icons will be referenced in the specification view (see figure)



Entries in this view may be clicked on to reveal the corresponding source code line. However, the view is most useful for preserving a record of the most recent work. Deleting entries in this view will delete the corresponding icon in the source code gutter. For information on how to obtain a specification view once this icon has been deleted, see Display a spec whose gutter icon is deleted.
