

Hosting an Eclipse plugin update site

The first step is to create the local version of the update site. Tip: do not attempt to put the update site in the code repository. The plugin and feature files are treated like binaries and bad things will happen. Here is a sample update site for the mango plugin.